7 Jan 1952 In an informal talk with [redacted] Dep Asst Dir of OO it was agreed that the various divisions of his office would themselves prepare a brief record of their operations and growth, including changes of policy or procedure that had occurred. [redacted] preferred to have the Historical Section given a prepared statement from documents in OO files rather than have the Section search for them. If the statement received needs filling out it can be revised. OO is most willing to cooperate and give that Sect. exactly what is wanted.

The statement should in all probability be ready about 1 February.

This plan seemed a good one to me and could, I think, be advantageously followed with other overt offices.

11 March '52 OO report is nearly completed and very extensive. [redacted] who is ill is finishing the text of the overall situation. On her return within 10 days or so the entire report should be ready. Follow up 25 March

26 March Report not yet finished FV. 1 April

Hardly had the War Department undertaken the continued upbringing of its foster child when it began to have misgivings. On 12 February 1946 the Assistant Chief of Staff (Vandenberg) advised DCI that the War Department found it inappropriate to continue the monitoring after 30 June. DCI then appointed an ad hoc Committee from the IAB agencies to determine who should carry on the work and how it was to be paid for. On 26 April the committee reported that the service was of great value to State and also in a somewhat lesser degree to War and Navy. However State and Navy had no facilities and War should carry on. DCI should be responsible for the assignment of the collecting and distributing missions and have the directing hand in them. The present organization should be liquidated (for security checks on the personnel) but reformed as quickly as possible to insure continuity of the service.

On 8 May, the Secretary of NIA set forth the objections of the War Department which emphasized that the monitoring was a "predominately military intelligence function." War suggested that CIG ~~perform the function~~ perform the function; feeling that State should do it.

By memorandum to DCI from the Special Assistant to the Secretary of State (Langer) dated 27 May, State ~~politely~~ declared the privilege of assuming the responsibilities and ~~politely~~ suggested that War should harbor the child at least during FY 1947.

The prospect that ~~██████████~~ would be picked up for vagrancy as being without visible means of support. Fortunately the NIA came to the rescue and by NIA 4, 29 June assigned to DCI the "conduct of all Federal monitoring of press and propaganda broadcasts of foreign powers required for the collection of intelligence information related to the national security."
